Extra Protection.

First Class Lease Protection (FCLP) provides coverage at lease end for some chargeable items, such as minor dents, scratches, and certain damage that goes beyond normal wear and use. The cost of FCLP can be added to your monthly payment, when you sign your Mercedes-Benz Financial Services First Class Lease Agreement.

What does it cover?

FCLP will waive specified excess wear and use charges up to a maximum limit of $7,500. It covers windshield damage charges, missing parts and equipment charges up to $200 per part, and the charge of one missing key fob. Plus with FCLP, there is no deductible. FCLP does not waive any excess wear and use amounts resulting from a single event with damage over $3,000. This product does not cover any excess mileage charges, and may not waive the entire balance owed on your lease agreement.

Common items that can be covered at lease end with First Class Lease Protection:

One Missing Key Fob

Worn or Damaged Leather or Carpet

Scratches (Through Paint)

Bumper Scuffs and Damage

Dents and Dings

Windshield Damage

Extra Protection for Extra Peace of Mind

You will have the assurance of knowing your vehicle has extra protection during the entire life of your lease. Eligible charges for minor dents, scratches, and certain types of damage considered beyond normal wear and use will be waived, minimizing the out-of-pocket expense for you at lease end.
